From E. D.—I am the grateful recipient of the education in theology that you make possible with your very generous contribution. I want to say that the study of God's Word has taken on a much greater meaning in my life over this past year and I express sincere gratitude to you all for your financial and spiritual support.

The exciting new truths and principles I've been blessed with through the participation in these structured courses has brought new meaning to my life and has given me true purpose and direction for the future. I used to think I had an understanding of the Bible but I had no idea there would be such an illumination as I've experienced God's awesome love in the study of His Word. Nothing in my life thus far even compared as a worthwhile pursuit or had such a positive effect on my spiritual development. God has certainly poured His blessing upon you all as good stewards which has also spilled over unto me.

From S. O.—The devil almost convinced me to lay down my keep, but hey, I'm a child of God that was picked to serve my Father before the foundation of the earth and now I stand here at my post, a believer, knowing the difference between my Father's voice and that of the liar. The renewing of my mind is a struggle as it must be for any believer. It's hard being in this process in a cell all by myself but I stand strong knowing that I am never alone nor forsaken.

Life is great and my Father is teaching me the power of His Word, teaching me how to live according to the laws of this mighty kingdom of God. I am alert, on the lookout for all opportunities to grow more Christ-like while defeating the devil in the process. Correction is awesome. Things that once seemed like they were lack, pain and sorrow, now are great blessings. I keep my ears open for my Father's commands and loving words of direction as I learn about the promises I have in God and the abundance that is on its way—NO—that I have already! I pray that the way my world is being framed will be rooted only in God's words.
